.FLOORING

The floor literally sets the tone for the look and feel of a space. It is increasingly becoming an expression of a company's corporate identity. The trend is towards more opulent patterns and brighter colours. Just a fad? The md editorial team gets to the bottom of the issue with projects, products and material expertise.

.SUSTAINABILITY

As private builders become more aware of sustainability, the challenges they face are changing. md presents solutions and unusual food for thought, from the ingenious development of small urban apartments to the conversion of existing agricultural buildings.

.SOCIAL INTERIOR DESIGN

Why does moving house often seem more appealing than hiring an interior designer? md discusses why interior design is considered expensive and uses opinion pieces and projects to show how we can change the general mindset.
