

The md events reach architects, interior designers, planners and designers.

The change from specialist lecture to a panel discussion between speaker, sponsor and moderator transfers what has been learned into concrete product recommendations.

"Signature Space": Distinctive hotels

Moderated by md editor-in-chief Johanna Neves Pimenta.

"The tourist destroys what he is looking for" was once the case: successful hotels focus on sustainability, open up to the neighborhood and integrate themselves authentically into their surroundings. Their function is changing from overnight location to a place to stay and workplace. md shows how interior design supports responsible tourism.

In focus: contract furniture, floor coverings, lighting, materials, individualization, sustainability

"The new normal":
Digitalization in interior
design

Moderated by md editor-in-chief Johanna Neves Pimenta.

"Al is a new tool. No more - no less" postulates md 9-10/24. The event will explore the impact of digitalization on all aspects of planning and construction. How do office spaces transform? How is work changing? Which programs are suitable for what? And is Al a friend or foe?

In focus: digitalization, AI, BIM, office planning
