.OFFICES FOR ALL GENERATIONS

Under 30 meets over 55: As the shortage of skilled workers intensifies, both age groups are receiving plenty of attention. What is rarely discussed, however, is how generational differences affect lighting, acoustics and communication. In our Orgatec issue, we explore ergonomic office concepts designed with genuine inclusion in mind.

.ACOUSTICS

Acoustics is not an optional extra, but the foundation for concentration, communication and health. We show how functional requirements, design solutions and user needs can be balanced successfully.

.COMMUNITY SPACES

Digitalisation is changing how we connect, both at work and in our private lives. Where do people come together today and what role does interior design play? After all, community thrives in spaces that invite people to stay, foster identity and create opportunities to meet.
